

Udacity Analytics

Udacity By Class Taken

What is the most popular Udacity class? There was 780 entries for how many classes Udacity Students took. The most popular class was Deep Learning Foundations at 292 or thirty eight percent. After that came Machine Learning at 235 or thirty percent. Followed by Artificial Intelligence with 112 or fourteen percent. Rounding up the end was Business Analyst with six percent, Self-Driving Car Engineer with two percent and robotics with less than one percent.

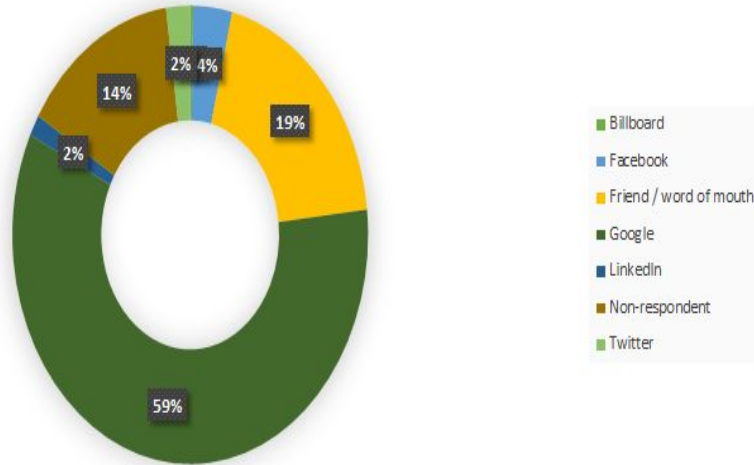

Location Of Udacity Students

What country has the most Udacity students? Most students are concentrated in the United States at 272. This is followed by India at 81, Germany at 49, Canada at 38, China at 36 and Brazil at 32. There are two reasons why Udacity students are concentrated in the United States. The first one is that Udacity is an American company therefore will have more of a known presence in there. The second one is that Udacity teaches its classes mostly in English. A fact that supports this is that despite Canada having a third of the population of the United States it still represents a good portion of Udacity students even with its small population.

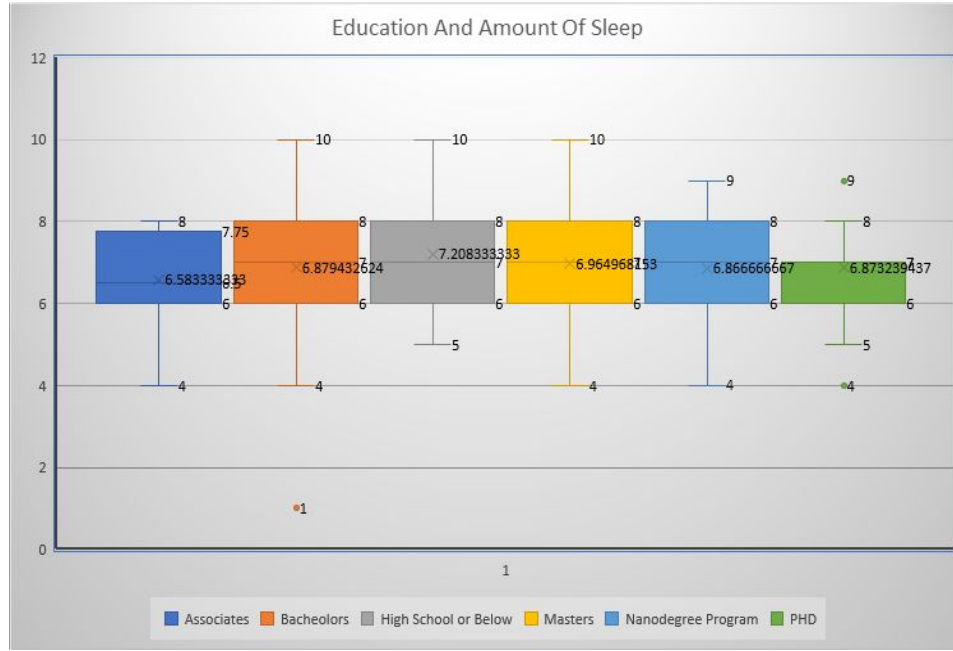

How Students Found Udacity

How Students Found Udacity

How did most of Udacity students here about Udacity? Out of the 736 people who took the survey 632 or ninety-six percent answered the question of how they heard about Udacity. The most common of the list was Google at 434 or fifty nine percent. After that came "word of mouth" at 143 or nineteen percent followed by Facebook at twentysix at four percent . Rounding at the bottom of the list is LinkedIn at eleven or one percent followed by billboard at two and less than one percent

Education and Amount Of Sleep

How much sleep people get in regards to their degree? This chart shows the amount of sleep Udacity students slept based on education. People with an Associates received the less amount of sleep with 6.58 while people with a high school or less received 7.2 which was the highest. The majority of the median was a 7. The max mode was 10 which three levels of education had while min was a 4 which was held by 4 different levels of education.